The series “The European Union and its Neighbours in a Globalized World” will publish monographs and edited volumes in the field of European and International Law and Policy. A special focus will be put on the European Neighbourhood Policy, current problems in European and International Law and Policy as well as the role of the European Union as a global actor. The series will support the cross-border publishing and distribution of research results of cross-border research consortia. Besides renowned scientists the series will also be open for publication projects of young academics. The series will emphasize the interplay of the European Union and its neighbouring countries as well as the important role of the European Union as a key player in the international context of law, economics and politics.

Unique Selling Points:

- Deals with a wide range of topics in regard of European and International Law but is also open to topics which are connected to economic or political science
- Brings together authors from the European Union as well as from accession candidate or neighbouring countries who examine current problems from different perspectives
- Draws on a broad network of excellent scholars in Europe promoted by the SEE | EU Cluster of Excellence, the Europa-Institut of Saarland University as well as in the South East European Law School Network
